Best Condition

A
- No discomfort is felt.
- However, self-healing system is getting weaker.
- Minimal remedy can prevent self-healing system from losing battle.

G
- No discomfort Is felt.
- Self-healing system is getting stronger with treatment.
- Minimal preventive maintenance is enough to keep in this condition.
- Much better tolerance to negative effects of food, work, exercise, emotions, environment and etc.

Self-Healing Threshold

C
- Severity and frequency of symptom vary depending on factors of food, work, exercise, emotions, environment and etc.
- Tolerance to the above factors gets better with treatment and proper managing them alone can make self-healing system kick in.
- Self-healing system gets better with treatment.
- Responsible organ responds better to the treatment.

B
- Severity and frequency of symptom vary depending on factors of food, work, exercise, emotions, environment and etc.
- Tolerance to the above factors gets worse.
- Self-healing system gets weaker with no treatment.
- Responsible organ still responds to the treatment.

F
- Severity and frequency of symptom vary depending on factors of food, work, exercise, emotions, environment and etc.
- Self-healing is about to kick in.
- Responsible organ still responds to the treatment.

Severity Threshold

D
- Severity, intensity, and frequency of symptom and pain are greatly affected by food, work, exercise, emotions, environment, and etc.
- Self-healing system still seems to have ceased to work.
- Although responsible organ still responds to the treatment, symptom does not seem to get better unless the treatment is very powerful.
- Usually patients abandon acupuncture treatment and get to seek surgery or other remedies, which would result in responsible organ's catastrophic failure.

E
- Severity, intensity, and frequency of symptom and pain are greatly affected by food, work, exercise, emotions, environment, and etc.
- Self-healing system still seems to have ceased to work even with treatment.
- Although responsible organ still responds to the treatment, symptom does not seem to get better unless the treatment is very powerful.
- Usually patients abandon acupuncture treatment and get to seek surgery or other remedies, which would result in responsible organ's catastrophic failure.
